Cimarron

IS IN THE EXACT GEOGRAPHICAL CENTER OF THE CIMARRON VALLEY, where the beautiful Cimarron Canon opens out on to the prairie, and is the most ideal location in the Valley. The Coke, Coal, Ore and Timber all come down hill to Cimarron, where the Railroads from the mineral districts, the coal camps and the timber districts center. Below and adjoining lie the choicest farming lands in the great southwest.

TOWN LOTS, 25x140 FEET, RANGE IN PRICE FROM $25.00 TO $250.00.

SO FAR AS CAN BE ASCERTAINED, CIMARRON IS THE ONLY TOWN IN THE UNITED STATES THAT HAS NOT FELT THE EFFECTS OF THE PANIC.

FRIENDS CHOSE HIS WIFE

Anderson, Ind., July 20.—Judge McClure today granted the petition of Amos Heagy, aged 81 years, for divorce from his wife Sarah, who is nine years his junior.

The aged applicant stated that he lived fifty-four years with his first wife. Two years ago he married his present wife upon the recommendation of two women friends whom he trusted to select him a mate.

"I got a tough hen," was the old man's description of his new mate. The couple have lived in the same house, but in separate rooms, and have not spoken to each other for months.

ELIZABETHTOWN

(Special Correspondent)

Miss Annie Lowrey is visiting Miss Maud Cannon in Red River City, being one of a week-end party. The Misses McGarvey, of Trinidad, are guests of Miss Maggie Gallagher at the lower end of the valley. Miss McGarvey is a finished musician of much merit.

The young people of the community gave Miss Maggie Gallagher a surprise party Saturday night. It was one of the good times for which Elizabethtown is noted. It is to be hoped that these occasions may occur more frequently.

Mr. Wm. McIntire, general manager of Mt. Baldy Deep Tunnel M. & M. Co., received a severe electric shock Monday. It occurred while opening a wire gate during a rain storm. The shock was so great that it picked Mr. McIntire up and threw him upon his head to the ground. His lower limbs and back are badly affected, the former being still numb.

These wire gates are truly dangerous in times of electrical storms and one should be cautious in opening them. This particular gate will remain open for awhile if Mr. McIntire has the closing of it.

MAN'S KINDNESS ILL REPAID

Glassboro, N. J., July 20.—Kind hearted John McGinnis gave a stray cat welcome to his home, fed it, and petted it. Two hours later the cat went mad and there was pandemonium in the McGinnis household. The cat refused to leave or be captured, but chased around the house at an automobile pace until there was no room for the family, who were terror-stricken at the thought of hydrophobia. Chairs, tables, dishes, and bric-a-brac sought the common level of the floor, and when finally the cat was killed the house looked as if a tornado had entered it.

LIVES PAY FOR CRIMES

Two Successful Executions in N. Y. Electric Chair; Both Crimes Atrocious.

Ossining, N. Y., July 20.—Charles Henry Rogers, the murderer of Fred and Willis Olney and Alice Ingerick, and Angelo Lauredio, who shot Banker Don Michele d'Ambras to death, were put to death in the electric chair today.

Rogers was the first to go to the chair at 5:54 o'clock. He was accompanied by Chaplain Jones.

Lauredio followed at 6:10 o'clock, accompanied by Fathers Mahoney and Benedicto.

The two men spent a restless night and were closely watched by the guards. When led from their cells to the death chamber they seemed resigned and walked erect to the chair.

Each man in turn was accompanied by his spiritual adviser.

Only the legal number of witnesses were present at the execution.

The apparatus attached to the chair was carefully tested several hours before the men were put to death, and it was in perfect working order. The executions were conducted without a hitch.

The crimes for which Charles Henry Rogers and Angelo Lauredio today paid the law's penalty were of unusual brutality.

The crime by Rogers was one of the most atrocious murders ever committed in this state. Rogers was convicted and sentenced to death for the triple murder of Fred and Willis Olney and Alice Ingerick, a little girl, at Howell's Station, near Goshen, N. Y., in October, 1905. At the same time he made a murderous attack upon Mrs. Ingerick, the mother of Alice.

After the murder he fled to the west and was gone a year and a half before a letter written by him to his brother in Middleton led to his capture.

MURDERED AND ROBBED

Las Animas, July 20.—Wiley W. Lindsey, a young man who lived in a lonely cabin on the Kleet ranch near Caddo, was murdered sometime during last night by unknown assassins. The dead body, with a bullet through the heart was found this morning by Richard Kleet, the owner of the ranch. The bullet had entered the heart and passed out of the shoulder. The room was in a state of disorder, the young man's trunk had been rifled and the walls were splattered with blood, indicating that a terrible struggle had taken place. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the crime. Sheriff John Kuber took charge of the body and is working on the case. Lindsey came here from Rantoul, Ill., where his parents reside.

MURDER SEQUEL TO REVOLUTION

Pueblo, July 20.—The inquest over the remains of one Merino, the Mexican who was killed Friday in a saloon fight by Donato Tetr, known as Dan Tate, was begun this afternoon. Merino was said to be a Mexican revolutionist, who escaped across the border recently. It is expected the inquest will show some connection between Merino and the Mexican revolutionists and the quarrel with Tate. It is claimed that Merino assaulted him with a razor and a rock, after a slight quarrel over some trivial matter.

TRIPLETS DIE, ONE AFTER THE OTHER, IN SCORCHING GOTHAM

New York, July 20.—Out in Lutheran cemetery, in Newton, Queens borough, Adolph Liepold's companions are digging three graves and this afternoon that number of small, white coffins will be lowered into the graves side by side. The coffins will contain the bodies of Liepold's three children, triplets, who died, one after the other, from the heat, within a period of three days. The heat of the last few days made all of them ill.

EX-CONVICT CAPTURED

Williams Ariz., July 20.—With a pistol pressed to his abdomen by Ranger H. E. Woods, Frank Sherlock, alias Charles Bly, recognized as a convict who rode away from the New Mexico penitentiary upon the warden's horse eleven years ago, exclaimed: "Guess you got me kid," and quietly surrendered.

He was delivered into the custody of Captain Christman of the New Mexico penitentiary at seven o'clock last night and immediately started on a four year sentence for horse stealing.

Sherlock was betrayed by a fellow convict whom he discharged from a position with the Grand Canon Lime & Cement company at Nelson, Ariz., where Sherlock had taken a contract.

Sherlock was a real Jean Valjean. Since his escape he has lived an exemplary life. For eight years he has been deputy sheriff of Mojave county, and in that time has run down many desperate criminals. He is a dead shot, and led a posse that followed Murderer Jim Kinney through the Death Valley seven years ago. Kinney had murdered another deputy sheriff of Mojave county. The posse reached Bakersfield two days after Kinney had killed two officers there and had been killed himself in a desperate fight. Sherlock for four years was livestock inspector of Mojave county.

DIAMONDS IN HER CHEESE.

Bloomfield, N. J., July 20.—Fritz Weber sold 11 cents worth of cheese to a woman customer today. A few hours later the woman returned to the store and asked Weber if he had lost a diamond ring. He replied that he had not, for he never owned one. The woman then produced a ring set with three glistening gems, which she said she had found imbedded in the cheese he had sold her. She was happy when told that the grocer did not own her find, which, she said, would enable her to take a needed vacation.

It is believed the ring, which is valued at $1,000 was dropped into the cheese at the factory. Weber could not be induced to give the name of his lucky woman customer.
